RE: Wyoming Underground Storage Tank Program
Quarterly Status Report (March 31, 2008 – June 30, 2008)

Dear Ms. Chambus:

BACKGROUND: The Wyoming Storage Tank Program (STP) regulates underground storage tanks (USTs) and aboveground storage tanks (ASTs). The definition of an UST is exactly the same as the federal definition. ASTs are defined as those aboveground storage tanks used by a fuel dealer to dispense gasoline and diesel to the public. The following table shows an overview of the STP in Wyoming:

	4/31/08	7/02/08
Total STP Facilities – Statewide Regardless of Status	3,828	3,830
Total Number of Systems of all types	10,521	10,540
Total Number of UST Systems	9,985	9,995
Total Number of AST Systems	536	545
Total Number of UST Facilities not Permanently Out of Use (POU)	770	770
Total Number of UST Systems not POU	1,985	1,966
Total Number of UST Systems Temporarily Out of Use (TOU)	134	110
Total Number of AST Facilities not POU	101	96
Total Number of AST Systems not POU	272	254
Total Number of AST Systems TOU	26	16
Total Number of Petroleum UST Systems	9,913	9,924
Total Number of Active Petroleum UST Systems (Not POU)	1,977	1,961
Total Number of Hazardous Substance UST Systems	29	29
Total Number of Active Hazardous Substance UST Systems (Not POU)	6	6

As you might expect, the total number of facilities, statewide, continues to slowly increase as older facilities are abandoned and new facilities are constructed, often on different sites. The total number of UST and AST facilities not POU continues a long-term trend as smaller facilities are abandoned and larger, higher throughput, stations replace them. The total number of TOU tanks has decreased this quarter as the economic development in Wyoming has created a demand for commercial property.

All USTs must have a leak detection method for the tanks and another one for all pressurized lines. All USTs must have spill prevention equipment and overfill prevention equipment. Suction lines that have no foot valve in the tank are exempt for all leak detection work and are referred to as safe suction or exempt suction. Suction lines with foot valves are required to be pressure tested every three years and are referred to as U.S. Suction or non-exempt suction. By far, most of the tanks in Wyoming are equipped with pressurized lines.

Owners and/or operators of ASTs are required to register their tanks and to pay an annual fee. ASTs that are used to dispense gasoline and diesel to the public are the only ones covered by the program and these owners receive all program benefits.

TANK AND CONTAMINATED SITE FEES: Tank fees and contaminated site fees are due January 1 of each year. Owners who do not pay by January 1 are not current with State of Wyoming Storage Tank Fees and thus are also not current with federal financial responsibility requirements. All 2,220 tank systems are subject to tank fees regardless of tank type. Owners of contaminated sites are also required to pay contaminated site fees to remain eligible for the state fund. Storage Tank fees were due January 1, 2008. Installation fees and new tank fees are invoiced after the final inspection is done.

Under our new Storage Tank Act of 2007, there is a late fee of $100.00 per tank for all fees not paid by April 1.

CATHODIC PROTECTION TESTS: One of our most important requirements is to have every cathodic protection system inspected once every three years by a cathodic protection tester to insure that the steel tanks and/or lines are still being protected against corrosion. This is the only requirement in the tank program that is designed to prevent leaks before they occur. Cathodic protection can be provided by either a sacrificial anode (galvanic anodes) system or by an impressed current system.

There are 730 USTs in Wyoming that are protected against corrosion using sacrificial anodes. This number includes both currently in use (CIU) and TOU tanks. As of July 2, 2008, only 21 of these tanks had not been tested within the last 3 years. These tanks are located at 9 facilities. This is a 98.8% compliance rate.

Fresh Start Convenience Stores has three outstanding Notices of Violation against them. One is for failing to do the cathodic protection test on 0-000949, and the other two are for failing to correct failing cathodic protection tests on their other two locations.

There are 458 tanks in Wyoming that are protected against corrosion by impressed current systems. Only 18 tanks at 8 locations have not been tested within the last 3 years. This is a 96.1% compliance rate.

In 2007, the State of Wyoming passed the Storage Tank Act of 2007. W.S. 35-11-1429 (a) of that statute states: “(a) Cathodic protection shall be installed and operated on all internally lined underground storage tanks no later than June 30, 2008. Almost all internally lined tanks have now either been replaced with new tanks or they have been modified to include an impressed current system. The following is a list of all internally lined steel underground storage tanks remaining in Wyoming:

TOU TANKS: Tanks can be placed in TOU status at any time, and they must be emptied within 1-inch of the bottom within 3 months of being placed in TOU status. Tanks that are TOU and empty are exempt from all leak detection requirements but not cathodic protection requirements. There are 110 USTs at 49 facilities that are TOU. LINE PRESSURE TESTING: There are 1,596 pressurized lines in Wyoming. This is marked increase over the last report because the State of Wyoming is now tracking individual lines separately. Previously, we could only track one line for each tank. Now we can track any number of lines from each compartment of each tank. Of the 1,596 pressurized lines, 547 are monitored with sump sensors on double wall pipe, 851 are monitored with mechanical line leak detectors, and 254 are monitored using electronic line leak detectors. Many of the lines have both sump sensors and mechanical line leak detectors. There are 117 sump sensors last tested before 4/1/07 and 233 last tested before 7/1/07. There are 64 pressurized lines monitored using mechanical line leak detectors that were last tested before 4/1/07 and 200 last tested before 7/1/07. There are 17 pressurized lines monitored using electronic line leak detectors that were last tested before 7/1/07. The compliance rate for testing mechanical line leak detectors is 76.5%. The compliance rate for electronic line leak detectors is 93.3%. The compliance rate for sump sensors is 57.4%.

There are 39 U.S. Suction lines in Wyoming. None of the U.S. Suction lines are past due on the 3-year pressure tests of the lines. This is a 100% compliance rate for this limited number of facilities.

INSPECTIONS: From April 1, 2008, through June 30, 2008, the STP conducted 111 on-site compliance inspections. The following is a list of all compliance inspections, including tank removal inspections and tank installation inspections:

SIGNIFICANT OPERATIONAL COMPLIANCE MEASURE 1: The STP conducted 462 compliance inspections during the past 12 months. Since SOC Measures are to be calculated over the past 12 months, and that is the number we are using to calculate percentage compliance. The STP identified 46 violations at 46 facilities that fit the definition for Significant Operational Compliance Measure 1. This is a compliance rate of 90.0% for SOC-1. SIGNIFICANT OPERATIONAL COMPLIANCE MEASURE 3: During the past 12 months, the STP identified 76 violations at 70 facilities that fit the definition for Significant Operational Compliance Measure 3. This is a compliance rate of 84.9% for SOC-3. Since SOC-3 is a combination of SOC-1 and SOC-2, the listing will not be repeated.

OPERATOR'S ANNUAL INSPECTIONS: When Chapter 17 was amended in 2005, a provision was placed in rule that requires the operator of the station to conduct their own annual inspections. During an operator's annual inspection, the operator is required to complete all tasks this agency would do during a field inspection and to fully document the inspection in a report to the department. Between July 1 2007, and June 30, 2008, operators have conducted, documented, and reported 403 inspections.

CLEANUP OF CONTAMINATED SITES: As of July 1, 2008, there are a total of 730 unresolved contaminated sites. There are 423 sites that are not in corrective action and are not resolved. Corrective action is underway at 307 sites. We have resolved 831 contaminated sites. The following 13 sites were cleaned up between October 1, 2007, and July 1, 2008, (the current federal fiscal year):

ENFORCEMENT: The Storage Tank Program pursued a very active enforcement program. Since the beginning for this federal fiscal year, the program has issued 20 Notices of Violation.

UNDERGROUND STORAGE TANK COMPLIANCE ACT OF 2005: This section of the Energy Policy Act requires states to perform a number of functions:

- Inspection of every facility not inspected since December 22, 1998: This has been completed.
- Inspection of every facility on a three (3) year schedule: We are on track with this work.
- Write compliance report of government owned tanks: This was completed on schedule and updated on schedule. This report is available on our website.

- Require new tanks and lines within 1000 feet of a community water supply or a potable water supply well to be installed as double wall tanks and lines: The state statute was amended to require this state-wide without reference to water systems.
- Make available a list of all facilities and underground tanks, statewide: This list is available on our website now. We are also working to make our database into a web-based system with the goal of eventually making the entire database available on the web.
- All states must have the ability to prohibit deliveries to non-compliant tanks: A draft rule has been written and passed by the Environmental Quality Council on May 29, 2008. The draft rule has been submitted to the Legislative Service Office, the Attorney General, the Secretary of State and the Governor's Office.
- States must require that operators of underground storage tanks be certified: In Wyoming, we opted to require operators to pass either the International Code Council - Underground Storage Tank Operator's Test (U6) or the International Code Council - Wyoming State Specific test (W7). All work through the International Code Council to implement these tests has been completed. Tests will be available in Casper, Sheridan, and Cheyenne as well as many sites in adjacent states. A draft rule has been written and passed through the Water and Waste Advisory Board twice. The last hearing was done on September 13, 2007. A final rule-making hearing was conducted May 29, 2008 before the Environmental Quality Council (EQC). The EQC did not pass this section of the rule and directed the department to meet again with industry. A meeting has been scheduled for July 10, 2008 in Cheyenne for the purpose of obtaining more input from industry. A hearing on Section 46 is being scheduled for the later part of September 2008.

There were 394 facilities due for state inspection during calendar year 2008: This includes inspections scheduled at less than a three year interval because of violations during the last inspection, all above ground storage tank facilities, and any new facilities that have not yet been inspected for the first time. With all of these inspections listed, there are only 394 inspections due in 2008. We expect to make all or nearly all of these inspections without problems.

SUMMARY: At this time, the Wyoming Storage Tank Program has an excellent compliance rate. Corrective action is proceeding as quickly as possible, given the financial and technical constraints that we work under.

Sincerely,

Robert F. Lucht, P.E. & P.G.
Storage Tank Program Compliance Supervisor
Solid and Hazardous Waste Management Division
